

Time to take it all in...

The Main Guard,
Co. Tipperary

...Your story starts here

www.tipperary.com

The Main Guard, Clonmel, Co. Tipperary, Ireland.

Built by James Butler (Duke of Ormond) in 1675 to serve as the courthouse of the Ormond Palatinate, this truly historic building has had many functions over the centuries, ranging from a market house, barracks, public house and now a museum.

